The following group of Maggi products are gluten free and endorsed by Coeliac Australia and NZ.

In order to claim gluten free for these products marked with an asterix every batch undergoes testing to ensure there is no detectable gluten in the product. Whilst "wheat" is the source and appears in the ingredients list, it is so refined by the processing that it passes through that there is no detectable amount of gluten remaining in the final product, hence the product is suitable for those avoiding gluten.
